Man is killed in shooting outside tavern

A 32-year-old Granite City man has been charged with murder in connection with the shooting death of a 26-year-old city man Friday night on the parking lot between two taverns just outside the city limits in the West Granite area.

Darrell W. Pellazari — who Granite City police said resides in the 700 block of 26th Street but sheriff's deputies say lives in the 4000 block of Division Street — was charged with murder in a warrant issued Monday.

Dead is Stephen M. Williams, of the 4000 block of Kirkpatrick Homes. He was shot at about 11:25 p.m. Friday night and was pronounced dead at 2 a.m. Saturday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Williams died from a single gunshot wound to his upper right chest, Madison County Coroner's Investigator Roger D. Smith said.

Sheriff's deputies allege Pellazari fired the fatal shot with a .22-caliber handgun. Bond was set at $500,000. Pellazari was still under observation Monday at SEMC for wounds he received the night of the shooting.

The alleged shooting took place in the parking lot between the Little Dover Inn and TC's Lounge in the 2500 block of Missouri Avenue, said Chief Deputy Bud Galloway of the Madison County Sheriff's Department.

Sheriff's deputies first responded to a 911 call of a fight in the parking lot. A second call reported a shooting and requested an ambulance, Galloway said.

According to a sheriff's department report, Williams had left TC's Lounge momentarily to get something out of his car. When he returned to the establishment, Williams told his friends that some men in the parking lot were creating a disturbance, the report states. Williams told his friends he was going back outside to see what the problem was, the report

School is fighting fighting

A new flag will soon be flying over Madison Middle School. It will remain flying as long as the school remains "fight-free."

The school kicked off its new Fight-Free program last week at an assembly that featured former St. Louis Cardinals pitcher Ricky Horton. The winning student-designed fight-free flag was announced and a burial service was held for "I Can't."

The students were given green "I'm a fight-free student" ribbons and dedicated themselves to keeping the school free of violence.

It's not that the Madison Middle School has really been a violent place, said Principal Raelynn Parks. At most, she said, there have been a few skirmishes growing out of horseplay at lunch time.

"But there is a violence problem on the outside," Parks said. "Because our children are surrounded by violence, we must make sure our (school)

Journals join team for Olympic Festival

The Suburban Journals are teaming up with the U.S. Olympic Festival 1994 to present the nation's best athletes next July.

The U.S. Olympic Festival will bring about 4,300 participants to St. Louis — 3,900 athletes and 1,300 officials — for a 10-day festival of sport July 1 through 10.

The Suburban Journals have signed on as a grand patron of the festival. The official sponsorship allows the Journals to participate in the success of the Olympic Festival, as well as contribute to a community event that has national interest.

"We're very pleased to be part of the festival," said Thomas E. Rice, president and CEO of the Suburban Journals. "We're dedicated to providing the best coverage of local sports and community news. The Olympic Festival will provide plenty of opportunities for both."

The Journals will provide extensive coverage of the local athletes who participate in the festival and the local volunteers who lend their time to the games.

The Olympic Festival will become much more visible in the coming months as the date of the games draws near. The most visible symbol of the festival is Speedy Smith, the official mascot.

Speedy Smith, the festival mascot.

Speedy, a turtle, is available for public appearances at all meetings and events of local organizations. He also has been appearing at local sporting events and at various school assemblies.

To arrange for an appearance by Speedy, call Kevin Johnson at 827-4370 or 1-800-94GAMES.

4 help save woman's life

Victim is pulled from burning home

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

Two Granite City police officers, a firefighter and a neighbor are being credited with saving the life of a 34-year-old West Granite woman Sunday morning when they pulled her unconscious from a burning home and revived her.

Officials say the fire was apparently set. An investigation into the incident was continuing at press time.

Debra Bevil, of the 2400 block of Ohio Avenue, was listed in serious condition Monday in the Burn Unit at St. John's Mercy Medical Center, St. Louis.

She and her boyfriend, Kevin Shearlock, were asleep at 9:55 a.m. Sunday when the fire ignited in the living room and quickly spread throughout the one-story wood house they rent, according to a fire report.

Granite City Patrolman Mike Murgie was the first to arrive on the scene. He said the front of the home was totally engulfed in flames and smoke when he arrived.

Murgie said Shearlock emerged from the building seconds later with burns and cuts all over his body, covered with black soot and wearing only his underwear.

Shearlock told Murgie that Bevil was still inside and pointed to a window on the north side of the home.

Murgie reached inside the window and found Bevil's arm. He and Ron Perkins — a neighbor who initially discovered the fire and reported it — tried to aid Bevil.

Melee erupts at soccer game here

By Bob Slate
Staff writer

A shoving match between opposing players in the Granite City sectional final high school soccer game touched off a near-riot Saturday night as spectators rushed the field to participate in a potential brawl.

About 25 fans ran onto the field near the sideline closest to the spectator seating area at the Gauntlet field with just under 30 minutes left in the championship game between the Granite City High School Warriors and the Collinsville High School Kahoks.

After about 10 minutes of pandemonium, school officials and police from several different agencies managed to restore order.

Collinsville High graduate Brett Boern, a goalkeeper for the 1992 state champion Kahoks and a spectator at Saturday night's title game, was arrested for battery in relation to the incident.

Law enforcement officials and school personnel try to restore order during Saturday night's soccer game at the Gauntlet field in Granite City. Lying face-down on the ground is Brett Boerm, the only adult charged in the fracas, which involved about 25 persons.

•Melee

No other adults were charged. Boerm allegedly punched a school athlete, Warrior senior midfielder Jamey Bridges, on the chin during the melee. Boerm was arrested, handcuffed and taken to the Granite City Police Station, where he was charged on a state complaint, according to a police report.

The incident was apparently prompted by shoving between two players. Warrior senior midfielder Jared Raftery and Kahok senior midfielder Shane Hanson were both ejected from the game as a result of the shoving incident.

According to the police report, the shoving prompted 25 to 30 spectators to leave the stands and rush onto the playing field just after 8 p.m.

A Granite City police officer, an auxiliary police officer, school administrators and officers from the Madison County Sheriff's Department and Illinois State Police attempted to restore order.

While Bridges told police after the game that he could not positively identify the culprit, the auxiliary police officer said he saw Boerm punch Bridges, the report states.

Boerm admitted to hitting Bridges, who displayed a bruised jaw, according to the report.

After Boerm was removed from the premises, more spectators entered the field and several other small scuffles started, the report states.

Order was restored and play was resumed after about 10 minutes. Both teams were scoreless after regulation play and two 10-minute "sudden death" overtime periods.

The Kahoks won the title on penalty kicks to advance to last night's supersectional title game at Edwardsville.

See today's Sports section for more game details.

Jett pleads not guilty in murder of Dollinger

An Edwardsville teen-ager accused of killing an 87-year-old Troy man pleaded not guilty to murder Friday.

Karen Jett, 15, entered his plea Friday with the assistance of his attorney, Doris Black of St. Louis.

A second suspect in the case, Anthony Townser, 18, on Friday asked Madison County Associate Judge J. Lawrence Keshner to assign him a public defender.

Police alleged Jett and Townser beat and slashed the throats of Irwin Dollinger of Troy and Bernice Boda of Edwardsville on Oct. 7.

Dollinger, who had returned from playing the saxophone at a senior citizen's dance the night he was attacked, died Oct. 9.

A Madison County grand jury indicted both teen-agers Oct. 21 on first-degree murder, home invasion and armed robbery charges.

The two allegedly attacked Boda and Dollinger as they returned to Boda's house in the 200 block of Springer Avenue.

Dollinger's car and wallet were stolen and Boda's purse and some of her personal papers were taken.

Police arrested Jett at Edwardsville High School after matching his fingerprints with two prints found inside Dollinger's car.

Jett reportedly implicated Townser in statements to police.

Several dozen high school students crowded into hallways at the Madison County Courthouse Friday when Townser and Jett were brought in for arraignment.

Williams approached three men in the parking lot who were swearing and making obscene gestures toward him, the report states. As he neared the group, one man pulled out a small caliber handgun and fired a shot at the ground, the report states.

Williams then took several steps toward the man with the gun, and the man fired one shot at Williams, hitting him in the chest, the report states.

Witnesses reported hearing two or three gunshots, according to the report.

Williams and two other men had been barred from TC's Lounge earlier in the evening, an employee of the lounge told police.

Earlier that evening, the three men had tried to enter the lounge and had been told to leave, the report states. They had harassed an employee but then left, the report states.

Pellazari told police he and two other men went to the Little Dover Inn to have some drinks. He said he had two drinks and left, the report states. But as he was climbing into his truck, he said, he was jumped by at least three men and hit on the head with some object.

Pellazari told police he did not remember what happened afterwards.

Pellazari was taken to SEMC with a bump on the back of his head, two cuts to his right forearm and a small wound on his back, the report states.

A nurse told police the wounds were made by a knife, the report said.

The public relations department at SEMC said Monday it had "no information to release" about Pellazari.

Police found a small pocket-knife in Pellazari's back pocket, the report said.

An investigation into the case is continuing and additional charges may be filed against the men who accompanied Pellazari, said Assistant State's Attorney Susan Jensen.

"We are still investigating their activities after the shooting took place, and we'll probably take it to the Grand Jury," Jensen said.

She added the two, who were apprehended near the tavern but have been released from custody, could face felony charges of obstruction of justice.

Williams was a welder at H.B. Trucking in St. Louis. An obituary appears elsewhere in today's Journal.

environment is safe and comfortable for everyone."

Each day, a student is selected to begin each class with greeting and admonition to stay fight-free. A motto of the day — with a theme of non-violence — is announced.

At the heart of the program are the school's 23 advisories. Each advisory consists of a teacher and 15 to 18 students that meet for 25 minutes each morning.

The groups work on building self-esteem and learning non-violent alternatives for settling differences.

"We want to teach the kids to respect one another. One of the things used is a form for students to get rid of anger," Parks said. "It's called 'Write, not fight.'"

On Fridays, advisories with the highest percentage of students wearing green ribbons during the week or having the lowest number of fights are given rewards.

At the end of the year, the advisory with the highest percentage of fight-free students will go on a special field trip. If there is a fight, the students involved are required to go out and take down the fight-free flag.

"The flag stays down for the rest of the day," Parks said. "It's a visible symbol that the school has failed to stay free of fighting."

Lawyer avoids losing his driving privileges

An Alton attorney charged with drunken driving in Clinton County managed to save his driving privileges despite refusing to take a breath-analysis test.

Donald E. Groshong, 46, was arrested about 12:18 a.m. Aug. 8 for driving under the influence of alcohol in Carlyle.

Groshong, who refused to take a breath test when arrested, was sentenced in September to one year's court supervision and was ordered to pay a $400 fine.

In most cases, a motorist who declines to take a breath test normally loses driving privileges for six months.

But Groshong said Friday he pleaded guilty to DUI in exchange for court supervision. He declined to comment further.

Clinton County State's Attorney Henry Bergmann agreed to dismiss Groshong's statutory summary suspension, according to court records. The newspaper has left messages for three weeks at Bergmann's office seeking an interview but he has not returned the calls.

Had no plea agreement been made, Groshong's driver's license would have been suspended six months beginning Sept. 23.

Clinton County Judge Dennis Middendorf approved the agreement before sentencing Groshong, court records show.

Police reports said Groshong was arrested by Carlyle police after he allegedly crossed the center line at Illinois Route 127 and U.S. 50.

They attempted to pull Bevil who was unconscious and lying on the floor — through the window, but were unsuccessful.

"At that point, I thought about trying to go inside. But the heat and smoke were just too intense," Murgic said.

"About that time I heard the fire trucks and I knew help was on the way. So I just hung onto her arm until (Fire Capt.) Carl Kalkbrenner got there."

Murgic and Kalkbrenner managed to pull Bevil through the window. She was naked, unconscious and not breathing, had severe burns on her arms and hands, and had soot around her mouth.

Murgic and Sgt. Dave Rosenburg immediately began chest compressions on Bevil, Murgic said.

Smoke emerged from her mouth with each compression, and she began breathing once again after about a minute, Murgic said.

She began kicking and the paramedics took over. They rushed her to the hospital," Murgic said.

Bevil was later flown to St. John's Mercy by ARCH (Air Rescue) helicopter.

Three children who also live in the home were staying with relatives, Murgic said.

"Arson was really the last thing on my mind at the time," Murgic said.

"I was just worried about getting everybody out."

But a flammable fuel was apparently used to ignite the blaze, authorities said.

"At first, it wasn't obvious that the fire was intentionally set. But the investigation has revealed that an accelerant was apparently used," said police Detective Capt. Roy Koberna.

Koberna said that evidence collected at the scene has been sent to a crime laboratory for analysis.

A fire report listed the cause of the fire as "suspicious."

The blaze completely gutted the house, owned by Shirley Rainey of the 2500 block of West 26th Street, according to the fire report.

Inspection plan advances Restaurant inspection bill goes to Edgar

State lawmakers gave the nod Friday for Madison County to inspect restaurants. The proposal now goes to Gov. Jim Edgar for his consideration.

However, even if the governor signs the bill, county officials will put the plan on the back burner until spring — after the county's voters decide on a plan to create a county health department.

The Senate Friday approved a proposal to give counties without health departments and populations of less than 1 million the power to inspect restaurants in all areas of the county, except those cities or towns that already have health departments.

The Senate's approval sent the bill on to Edgar, who has 60 days to consider the bill. The legislation, passed by the House earlier this year, would only affect Madison County, the largest county in the state without a health department.

Such a department normally handles restaurant inspections.

Under existing rules, Madison County could hire restaurant inspectors but they would only have jurisdiction in unincorporated areas.

To inspect restaurants in Alton, Granite City, Godfrey and other municipalities, the inspectors would have to be jointly hired by each municipality, a situation county officials said would result in a paperwork nightmare.

If signed, the new law would give the county free reign in inspecting eating establishments because none of the municipalities in the county has its own health department.

However, the Senate vote Friday may prove to be of little use if voters approve a health department referendum in March.

If voters pass the health department referendum, the changes in state law would be meaningless because they would only apply to counties without health departments.

Come in to any Frank's location and schedule your appointment. A professional pet portrait is something you'll treasure for years!

This is the time of year to start taking extra precautions for pets that reside outdoors most of the time. Dogs and cats alike are quite hardy creatures, but exposure to sub-zero temperatures can be very harmful.

Here are some tips to ensure your pets will live happily through the upcoming winter.

Make sure they always have fresh, clean water. Water in a bowl can freeze rapidly, so it should be checked often.

Winter is not the time to put them on a diet! That doesn't mean they should be permitted to eat until they burst, but they do need more food during winter. The extra fat it puts on helps keep them warm.

If the temperature falls below zero, bring the pet inside! If you don't, they can be subjected to frostbite, hypothermia, and several other life-threatening conditions. After all, there is a limit as to how much cold an animal can tolerate. Below zero is too much.

If your dog is kept on a chain, check it often to make sure it isn't kinked or wound around anything. This could restrict their movement. Outdoor pets must be active.

Cats enjoy warmth and they will frequently seek out a place that will provide it. Unfortunately, one of their favorite spots is the nice warm engine compartment of a parked car. If you can't find the kitty when you're getting ready to leave, a quick peek under the hood before you start the car can save your pet from disaster.

If you change your car's anti-freeze, make sure you drain it into a suitable container and dispose of it properly. Many pets seem to enjoy the taste of anti-freeze, and ingesting only a small amount of it can be fatal.

County to cover jury panel's budget

The Madison County Board will make up an $11,000 shortfall in the Jury Commission budget but not without some grumbling and a warning not to look for any additional help in the next fiscal year.

Eight months ago, then-Chief Judge Paul Riley promoted a part-time Jury Commission clerk to full-time status, increasing her salary from $12,000 a year to $21,000, even though there was no money in the Jury Commission budget to cover the $9,000 increase. The cost of making the clerk full time, coupled with a $6,300 sick-leave buyout for a retiring Jury Commission employee, will put the commission $11,000 in the red when the fiscal year ends Nov. 30.

Members of the County Board's Finance Committee expressed some anger and disappointment that Riley increased spending for the Jury Commission, but grudgingly agreed to cover the $11,000 shortfall with reserve funds.

However, committee members said they will not allocate any additional funds to bail out the Jury Commission in fiscal year 1994.

when the commission is expected to come up $13,000 short.

A bleak budget forecast for the next few years has officials keeping a tight grip on the purse strings and ordering most county department heads to pay for raises out of their day-to-day operating budgets. Sheriff Bob Churchich was the only official to receive any extra money to cover raises next fiscal year.

Riley's term as chief judge expired this summer and the new chief judge, Edward Ferguson, found himself holding the bag.

Ferguson asked the Finance Committee to increase his current $56,000 budget to $71,000 to cover increased personnel costs, but the only increase allowed by the committee was $3,000 for postage.

Committee Chairman Bill Little of Alton acknowledged that the budget problems at the Jury Commission were inherited by Ferguson and not his fault, but he said giving extra funds to one office could result in renewed demands from other department heads for additional funds.

"I have all the sympathy in the world for (Ferguson). I know he's caught between a rock and a hard place," said committee member Alan Dunstan of Troy.

Dunstan, who also sits on the Judiciary Committee, criticized Riley for not consulting that committee when he decided to boost the part-timer to full-time status.

Riley, who has been tapped for a federal judgeship in the Southern District of Illinois, said he needed another full-time employee when the Data Processing Office stopped handling some of the Jury Commission's computer work.

"The duties of the Jury Commission expanded greatly at that time and I felt we needed another person. I don't know what else I can say," Riley told The Telegraph.

Committee members suggested Ferguson may be forced to cut spending in other areas of the Jury Commission, though they conceded there probably isn't much fat to cut in a budget that size.

Ferguson could not be reached for comment.

Groups offered color coverage

For the many charitable and non-profit groups in our community, nothing is more important than that once-a-year bake sale, rummage sale, quilt drawing or benefit dance.

The Press-Record/Journal also thinks these special events are important: so important we want to put them — in living color — on the front page of our newspaper.

Starting next month, the newspaper will begin reserving a spot for a color photo on the front page of its Sunday edition for Cub Scout bake sales, PTA craft fairs, church bazaars and the many other little events with big significance that never seem to make it on Page One.

There are some rules. The Page One program is only open to once-a-year events held by charitable or non-profit groups. The program is designed to preview events, so groups need to request Page One placement 30 days in advance of the event.

Requests for the Page One program must be in writing and request forms are available at the Press-Record/Journal office, 1815 Delmar Ave., Granite City.

Craft fair at Lutheran High

The Parents and Friends of Metro-East Lutheran High School in Edwardsville are sponsoring their Fall Craft Fair from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 6, and from 1-5 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 7.

The craft fair is a semi-annual fundraising event for the high school.

Attendance prizes will be awarded. There will also be a bake sale and concessions available for purchase.

All who are interested in crafts would find this event to their liking.

Wreaths, jewelry, stamp craft, sequin appliques and many other intriguing crafts will be part of the fair.

Metro-East Lutheran High School is located at 6305 Center Grove Road in Edwardsville, to the east of the SIU campus.

For more details or table rental information, call Kathy Hanke at 344-6832.

Legion Auxiliary citation awarded

The American Legion Auxiliary Veterans Affairs and Rehabilitation National Citation was recently presented to Betty Wellman, Department VA&R chairman.

The plaque reads, "In recognition and sincere appreciation of the best year-round report in the Central Division."

The plaque is signed by National President Linda Boone and VA&R chairman Linda Newsome.

Wellman was also awarded a citation for the best narrative on home service and was given a citation for 100 percent attendance of all VA&R meetings last year.

Wellman is a member of Unit No. 581 and has served on the VA&R unit level for six years. She has been appointed again to serve as hospital associate representative to the Jefferson Barracks VA Medical Center. She has served in this position for the past four years.

The awards were presented at the fall 22nd District meeting on Oct. 2.

Units provide Christmas and Easter gift programs and other veterans programs for confined, hospitalized and homeless veterans. The VA&R program is seeking volunteers in the following fields: hospital service, home service and field service. You do not have to be an American Legion or Auxiliary member to become a volunteer.

Volunteers are entitled to the same awards and pins after completing the proper orientation courses. Call Betty Wellman 286-3472 for more information or if you would like to become a volunteer. Volunteers between the ages of 12 and 18 are welcome by the VAMC and scholarships are available.

Postage stamps feature popular, classic books

Four classic books appeared on 29-cent postage stamps in October. The stamps feature Little Women, Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm, Little House on the Prairie and The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn. The stamps were issued Oct. 23 in Louisville, Ky., in conjunction with the annual conference of Literacy Volunteers of America Inc., which celebrates 31 years of service in 1993.

The stamps represent some of the best-loved and most popular stories which have entertained generations of young readers," said James Tolbert, postal manager of stamp management. "The Postal Service has been active in programs promoting literacy for several years, these stamps are another opportunity for us to encourage our youth to take adventures by reading books and collecting stamps."

Louisa May Alcott's enduring Little Women was published in two volumes during 1868 and 1869. Alcott began writing in 1851 as a means to financially support her family. At the urging of a publisher, she reluctantly began to write a novel for young girls. Little Women was an immediate and phenomenal success, selling 60,000 copies in the first year. The book inspired a new mass audience of readers able to purchase inexpensively priced books.

Like Alcott, Kate Douglas

Smith Wiggin also began writing to help her family overcome financial problems. Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm, her most popular book, is the story of a fatherless little girl that goes to live with her maiden aunts. This book was an immediate best seller in 1913 and was converted into a play, which opened in New York in 1910, and enjoyed a long run in the United States and Europe. A screen version later starred Mary Pickford.

Her childhood and travels on the frontier through the undeveloped territory of the Midwest inspired several books by Laura Ingalls Wilder. Upon the suggestion of her daughter, also a writer, she began to write novels that reflected her experiences as a young girl on the prairie. Little House on the Prairie was published in 1935 and followed her first book, Little House in the Big Woods.

Samuel Clemens, also known as Mark Twain, provided some record of his boyhood experiences along the Mississippi River in his book, Huckleberry Finn. The story is still a favorite among young readers.

The stamps are available nationwide and continues the tradition of issuing youth-themed stamps. The stamps will also be featured on a poster which salutes the theme "Books Change Lives," the 1993 national reading promotion campaign of the Library of Congress, in which the Postal Service is a partner.

Granite City postmaster Charlie Parkinson, right, presents children's librarian Andi Miller with two books, "Little House on the Prairie" and "Huckleberry Finn," as part of a new stamp series coming out.

Bill provides funding for county transit agency, light-rail

The U.S. House of Representatives has approved a bill awarding $17 million to the Illinois Department of Transportation to replace old buses, improve bus stations and garages, and comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act.

The bill includes directions for IDOT to give priority consideration to the Madison County Transit Authority's request for $5.5 million to build a transit center in Edwardsville and to replace 21 buses.

The bill includes $15.2 million in funding to complete the first phase of the MetroLink light-rail system between Lambert-St. Louis International Airport and East St. Louis.

U.S. Rep. Richard Durbin of Springfield said the two transportation projects will help create jobs and stimulate growth in the Metro East area.

Durbin said that House and Senate negotiators agreed to provide funding in the fiscal year 1994 Transportation Appropriations bill for five important transportation improvement projects for downstate Illinois.

"Because the new budget agreement freezes domestic spending for five years, making it increasingly difficult to secure Federal funds for local transportation projects, I am particularly pleased with our success this year," said Durbin, the second ranking member of the Appropriations Subcommittee on Transportation and a House negotiator on the bill.

The bill includes $17 million for an Illinois Department of Transportation program to replace old buses, improve bus stations and garages, and comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act.

The bill includes language directing IDOT to give priority consideration to Madison County's request for $5.5 million for a transit center in Edwardsville and 21 replacement buses and Springfield's request of $1.9 million for 6 CNG buses and a fuel station in Springfield.

"I am happy that Illinois received the highest allocation of any state for bus projects," Durbin said.

The bill also includes $250,000 for a study of statewide air service projects.

"This study is a high priority for many downstate Illinois communities," Durbin said. "The study will determine supply and demand for air service in downstate Illinois communities and help preserve that service at a time when markets for air service are changing and new air hubs are being created."

In addition, the bill includes $2.5 million to begin design work for grade crossing improvements and conduct an Environmental Impact Study along the Chicago-St. Louis high speed rail corridor.

Durbin secured $500,000 in the fiscal year 1992 Transportation Appropriations bill for a study to be conducted by the State of Illinois on the feasibility of establishing high speed rail passenger service on the Chicago-St. Louis corridor.

The study, which should be completed soon, will include an analysis of projected cost and revenues, the type and frequency of service, and provide a preliminary plan to implement such service.

The Chicago-St. Louis corridor has already been identified by the U.S. Department of Transportation as one of five high-speed rail passenger corridors, making it eligible for these funds which will be used to eliminate hazardous grade crossings.

In addition, Illinois has developed a joint state-federal partnership in working to upgrade the tracks between Chicago and

St. Louis.

The transportation bill also includes $15.2 million to complete all of Phase I of the St. Louis MetroLink light rail project, except the Berkeley Spur. Phase I connects Lambert Airport with an Illinois station on the riverfront in East St. Louis.

"Our subcommittee was very impressed by the early success of MetroLink," Durbin said. "Ridership has exceeded expectations and the project is off to a strong start."

Finally, the bill includes language to ensure that domestic airlines receive fair treatment in the allocation of slots at Chicago's O'Hare Airport.

Anderson
Hospital off
lecture series

"Medicine 101" is the first in a new series of health-care lectures offered each month at Anderson Hospital in Madison. Each free lecture will cover techniques for preventing and improving lifestyle.

"Through Medicine," says Dr. M.D., internist and president of Anderson Hospital's staff. "Educating the patient and the physician about a variety of health issues is an important part of the health care process."

In the first lecture, titled "Hypertension," Dr. Kopas will present an overview of hypertension, how the disease relates to heart disease, and the importance of early diagnosis and treatment.

All lectures will meet in rooms 2 and 3 of Anderson Hospital's physician's office building.

Future lecture topics include diabetes, drug interactions, depression, cosmetic surgery, and more. There is no fee to attend, and reservations are not necessary.

Anderson Hospital offers lecture series

"Medicine 101" is the title of a new series of health-care lectures offered each month at Anderson Hospital in Maryville.

Each free lecture will discuss techniques for preventing illness and improving lifestyle.

"Through Medicine 101 we hope to better inform the public about a variety of health-care issues," said Tibor Kopjas, M.D., internist and president of Anderson Hospital's medical staff.

"Educating the public about health care will allow both the patient and the physician to get more out of their relationship."

Medicine 101 lectures are presented in an intimate, informal fashion, Dr. Kopjas said. Those attending are encouraged to ask questions and participate in discussions.

In the first lecture, titled "Living With Hypertension," Dr. Kopjas Monday presented an overview of hypertension and how the disease relates to premature illness and death.

All lectures will meet in Classrooms 2 and 3 of Anderson Hospital's physician's office building.

Future lecture topics include diabetes, drug interactions, depression, cosmetic surgery, back pain and breast cancer.

There is no fee to attend, but reservations are required.

'Kid wellness' is a part of mission of Children's Hospital

By Jane Cosby
Correspondent

St. Louis Children's Hospital has been a leader in child health care for more than 100 years. The hospital now is expanding its definition of health care to include other areas of children's lives under the heading of "kid wellness."

This new mission for St. Louis Children's Hospital can be described as "doing what is right for kids," said Nancy Litzinger, vice president of public relations and child advocacy for the hospital.

When the hospital underwent restructuring recently, hospital administrators decided it was time to rethink its mission and vision, Litzinger said.

Run to aid Spina Bifida Association

The 11th annual Parks College Run to benefit the Greater St. Louis Spina Bifida Association will be held Nov. 6 beginning at 9 a.m. at the Parks College campus in Cahokia.

There will be a five-mile race and a one-mile fun run on the streets of Cahokia with awards given to the top male and female finishers in the five-mile race, and ribbons to the fun-run participants.

Forty-two age group trophies will be given to participants in the five-mile race. Trophies will also be given in the categories of oldest male and female finishers, wheelchair division and best three-person fire/police department team.

Applications are available at the Sports Authority in Fairview Heights and St. Louis; Champs Sports and Johnny Mac's Sporting Goods in St. Louis; Curt Smith Sporting Goods in Belleville, local YMCAs and the Parks College Alumni Student Center.

The $8 entry fee must be received by Nov. 3. For more information, contact Jerry Kurfman, Parks College athletic director, at 337-7575, ext. 237, or 314-241-0200.

"We couldn't ignore the fact that we were treating kids for gunshot wounds or for developmental delays caused by premature birth," Litzinger said. The new mission will provide an umbrella for the hospital to develop programs aimed at improving children's lives in many ways, Litzinger said.

The hospital recently invited Bob Keeshan to speak to hospital trustees and managers on the issue of child advocacy.

Keeshan, a national advocate for children, is known to many people by his television personality, Captain Kangaroo. Keeshan emphasized in a recent interview the importance of child advocacy.

"Child advocacy is especially important today because kids and families are at risk," Keeshan said. "One in five kids in this country lives below the poverty level."

"Children are the principle underclass in this country," he said. "We are the first industrialized nation to make children its underclass."

Keeshan said money spent on children today will save money later. "We are being penny-wise and pound-foolish," Keeshan said. "Legislators never see the wisdom of spending money on kids. They aren't afraid of kids. Kids don't vote, and they can't react to their own needs."

Keeshan said the new mission of St. Louis Children's Hospital is appropriate.

"What good does it do to take care of kids' health care needs and then put them back in an environment that will destroy them?" he said.

Keeshan said our society needs to start investing in its children.

"We need to invest in education, address the problem of the violence in our streets and try to identify families at risk for child abuse and help them," Keeshan said.

Keeshan, who has provided educational programming for children for more than 35 years, also said the television industry needs to take some action regarding violence on TV.

"We need to educate parents not to use television as a baby sitter, and we need to go after broadcasters who don't understand that they have a responsibility to help nurture our kids," he said.

St. Louis Children's Hospital recently was named one of the 10 best children's hospitals in the country by a national parenting magazine.

FEELING FIT

By Mark Lymberopoulos

If you thought macadamia nuts were just expensive cocktail food, think again. They're high in beneficial monounsaturated fats that reduce LDL's, the "bad" cholesterol, and derive 8 to 10 percent of their calories from protein.

Working out with machines is generally safer than free weights; for instance, you won't drop a weight on your foot. Mac equipment will guide your motions, control the movement of the weight, and force the exerciser to maintain good posture.

For easing muscle aches and sprains, one company now offers a hot wrap that can be heated in the microwave or hot water. Its cold wrap has an instant-chill chemical gel and can be recharged in the freezer.

Women are more likely than men to participate in working out with treadmills or weights, bicycling, running, swimming and other exercise activities, a National Sporting Goods Association study found. Nearly 38 percent work out regularly, vs. 23 percent of men.

Party for Peanuts

By Janice Denham
Staff writer

Peanuts are not just a favorite of elephants. The human lunch room shows how stuck brown baggers are on them, too.

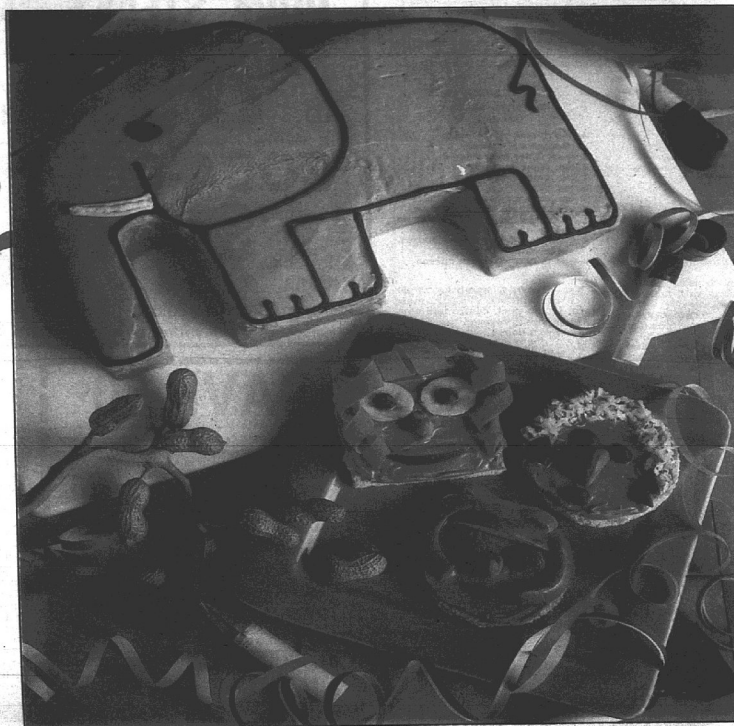

Peanuts are everything they are cracked up to be. Every year enough peanut butter is sold to spread on 10 billion peanut butter sandwiches.

Although they are more a pea than a nut by family, the resemble nuts in that they have plenty of fat. Thus, it is better to skip other fatty-food items, like meat and cheese, when they are on the menu. For those who care, though, the saturated fat is relatively small. When they are salted, sodium is added. The good part is that two tablespoons peanut butter has more protein than a slice of American process cheese or 1 ounce of sliced roast beef. Their potassium and fiber also put them in a high rank.

Most people like peanut butter, however, because it tastes good and keeps well without refrigeration for lunch. Its stickiness doesn't keep it from being a favorite flavor in many different foods. For a memorable birthday party, flavor cake and frosting with it and decorate it to become an elephant.

Focus on peanuts and peanut butters in other foods, too. Bake up little bundles of peanut butter and jelly in crescent rolls, mash it with ripe banana and flavor with cinnamon to spread on graham crackers or ladyfingers, or use peanuts in an Asian dip by blending them with plum jam, soy sauce and pepper sauce. A tablespoon of crunchy peanut butter added to almost any Oriental dish adds warm and savory flavor.

There are plenty of ways to flavor a party with peanuts.

PEANUT BUTTER AND JELLY BIRTHDAY CAKE

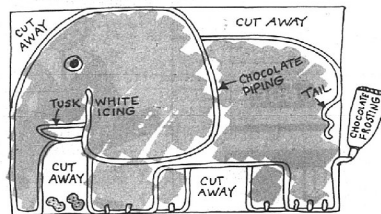

- 1 pkg. (2 layers) yellow cake mix with pudding
- 1 cup creamy peanut butter
- 1/2 cup grape jelly
- Peanut Butter Frosting
- A dozen peanuts in their shells

Preheat oven to 350°. Spray 13-by-9-by-2-inch baking pan with cooking spray.

In large bowl, using mixer at medium speed, beat cake mix and peanut butter until coarse crumbs form. Continue to follow package directions, omitting oil. Spread batter evenly in prepared pan. Bake according to package directions or until cake springs back when lightly touched. Cool in pan on wire rack 10 minutes. Remove from pan. Cool completely.

Split cake in half horizontally. Place one layer on large tray or cutting board. Spread with jelly. Top with second layer. Cut cake in shape of elephant according to drawing. Frost with Peanut Butter Frosting. If desired, write birthday greeting on elephant's body with jelly or candy letters.

Place peanuts in their shells at base of elephant's nose. Peanut butter frosting: Using mixer at medium speed, beat 1/2 cup creamy peanut butter until creamy. Gradually beat in 2 cups confectioner's sugar alternately with 5 to 7 tablespoons milk until it turns into good spreading consistency. Beat in 1 teaspoon vanilla. Makes 1 1/2 cups frosting, enough to frost 9-inch layer cake or 13-by-9-inch sheet cake.

LADYFINGER SURPRISES

- 1 small ripe banana
- 1/2 cup creamy peanut butter
- 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 pkg. (3 oz.) ladyfingers

In medium bowl, mash banana with fork to make 1/2 cup. Stir in peanut butter and cinnamon until blended.

Separate ladyfingers. Spread flat surface of half the ladyfingers with peanut butter mixture. Cover with remaining ladyfingers. Makes 12 servings.

PEANUT BUTTER DIPPING SAUCE

- 1/2 cup apple juice
- 1/2 cup creamy peanut butter
- 1/4 cup ketchup
- 2 tbsp. brown sugar

In small saucepan, combine apple juice, peanut butter, ketchup and brown sugar. Heat to simmering over medium heat, stirring constantly until thickened and smooth. Serve warm with chicken nuggets or French fries. Makes about 3/4 cup.

PEANUT BUTTER COOKIES

- 1 1/2 cups flour
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- 1 tsp. baking soda
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 cup peanut butter
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) margarine
- 1 cup packed brown sugar
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 tsp. vanilla

Preheat oven to 350°.

In medium bowl, combine flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. In large bowl, using mixer at medium speed, beat peanut butter and margarine until smooth. Beat in sugars until blended. Beat in eggs and vanilla. Add flour mixture. Beat until well blended. If necessary, refrigerate dough.

Shape into 1-inch balls. Place 2 inches apart on ungreased cookie sheets. Flatten with fork dipped in sugar, making crisscross pattern. Bake in preheated oven 11 to 13 minutes until lightly browned. Cool completely on wire rack. Store in tightly covered container. Makes 5 dozen cookies.

DYNAMITE BUNS

- 1 tube (8 oz.) refrigerated crescent rolls
- 8 heaping tsp. peanut butter
- 8 tsp. grape jelly

Preheat oven to 400°. Grease muffin cups.

Separate dough into 8 triangles. Place 1 heaping teaspoon peanut butter near wide end of each triangle. Top with 1 teaspoon jelly. Fold wide end of dough over filling. Continue rolling to narrow end. Fold sides under and pinch to seal. Place in greased muffin cups.

Bake in preheated oven 9 to 10 minutes. Remove from pans. Cool on wire rack. Makes 8 servings.

HONEY NUT SUNDAE TOPPING

- 1/2 cup roasted honey nut peanut butter
- 1/4 cup pancake syrup
- 1/4 cup water

In 1-quart bowl, stir peanut butter and syrup until combined. Gradually stir in water until smooth. Serve over ice cream. Decorate sundaes as desired with chocolate chips, chopped peanuts, raisins, marshmallows or granola. Makes about 1 cup.

Planning is the name of the game when it comes to children's parties. Larry Levin — alias "Sparkles" or "Amazing Larry" — has performed full time for 14 years at everything from local birthday parties to the opening of MetroLink in St. Louis, from the White House in Washington, D.C., to International Expo in Japan.

As top banana of Amazing Clown and Magic Shows, he says his 350 shows a year have given him a glimpse of a wide array of parties.

"If there is feature entertainment, I recommend allowing enough time for the kids to get there and to visit a little bit. If there is to be a lunch or other 'real food,' that would be nice to have early, too, so kids aren't hungry and they settle down. After the performance, have the birthday cake and open presents so they won't be so distracted," he says.

Whatever the focus of the party, hold noise makers and pinata until later, too. Even balloon sculptures can set the tone at a party.

"I am sort of a pacifist at heart, but I think kids tend to act out things with swords," he says. He prefers teddy bears, flowers, tigers on skateboards and lions on motor scooters.

Food can be used to good effect, too. He finds easy foods — like pizza, hot dogs and tuna sandwiches, as well as carrot sticks for the nutrition-minded mom — help keep the group together. Serving lunch to very young children gives them something to do together not at their nap time. Ending the party with birthday cake, then free play in the back yard also helps ebb excitement gradually.

"Especially if you want to entertain a large number of kids, balloon animals and face painting is an incredibly inefficient way of entertaining them. If you want all the kids to be entertained effectively, the way to do that is through a group-oriented activity that involves the children. In my puppet show, I start walking around and involve the kids. In magic shows, the kids should get credit for doing a lot of the magic," Levin says. Although a neighborhood may have a favorite clown-in-residence, Levin has tips for inviting this character to the party, too.

"Kids who are 2 or 3 often like Barney on TV or a clown far away at a circus. If something large comes toward them, they might think it is a monster."

Levin took off his makeup six years ago because "I got tired of scaring kids." He felt his clown character did not need an exaggerated front, nor did he need to be seen from afar as though he were at a circus.

Children 4 to 7 might be the best age for clowning around, because they want the clown to be silly. At this age children still check behind their ears to see if any coins are left after a clown magically finds one there. By the end of that time children begin to doubt the magic and need more sophisticated plays or an added dimension of danger or suspense.

Levin recommends anyone engaging entertainment for a party speak to the performer, not an agent, and get a tremendous amount of detail so they understand exactly what will be expected and provided. He says in this community small increases in fees usually yield giant steps in quality.

PLenty O' Party

Make the abracadabra dinner: Cook chicken for two meals

One practical solution to the everyday "what do I make for dinner?" blues is cooking "big" on the weekend so extras are tucked away for later in the week when time is at a premium.

The basic idea is to select one easy part of the menu that can be made to cover more than one meal. A whole roasted chicken, boneless chicken breasts and larger cuts of lean beef and pork—such as beef top sirloin steak and pork tenderloin—all fit this criteria.

After cooking, half the poultry or meat is covered and refrigerated for a second meal. To ensure both safety and freshness, these following food safety tips are important:

• Thoroughly wash hands, cutting board and knife with hot, soapy water before and after handling uncooked poultry or meat.

• Immediately after cooking, cover and refrigerate extras. To speed cooling, cut roasts or steaks in smaller pieces and arrange chicken breasts in single layer on plate.

• Use cooked poultry or meat within two days or freeze for longer storage. Be sure to thaw in the refrigerator.

In these recipes, half the seasoned chicken breasts are served hot topped with a colorful Caribbean-inspired salsa. The extra chicken is refrigerated and served cold a night or two later in a main dish salad.

To streamline dinner further, buy a bag of ready-to-use mixed salad greens from the supermarket produce section. Additional wheat germ sprinkled on top provides an easy nutrition boost.

Peppery herbed chicken breasts (Meal 1)

- 1 cup peeled, chopped mango (about 1 medium)
- 1/2 cup salsa
- 1/2 cups original wheat germ
- 1 tsp. paprika
- 1 tsp. oregano
- 1 tsp. curry powder
- 1 tsp. garlic powder
- 1/2 tsp. salt, if desired
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- egg whites
- 2 tsp. water
- 8 skinned, boned chicken breast halves
- Chopped fresh cilantro or parsley, if desired

In small bowl, combine mango and salsa.

Preheat oven to 400°. Lightly spray baking sheet with nonstick cooking spray.

Combine wheat germ, paprika, oregano, curry, garlic powder, salt and pepper.

Beat egg whites and water until frothy. Dip chicken in egg white mixture, then in wheat germ mixture. Dip and coat chicken again in remaining egg white and wheat germ mixture to coat chicken thoroughly.

Lightly spray chicken on both sides with nonstick cooking spray.

Place on prepared baking sheet. Bake in preheated oven 20 to 22 minutes until juices run clear when pierced with fork.

Reserve 4 chicken breasts for second meal. Cool slightly. Wrap and refrigerate until ready to use.

Quick parmesan chicken salad (Meal 2)

- 1/4 cup frozen apple juice concentrate, thawed
- 2 tsp. white wine vinegar
- 2 tsp. Dijon mustard
- 1 tsp. grated lemon peel
- 1/4 tsp. cumin
- 1/4 tsp. cayenne pepper
- 8 cups torn mixed salad greens
- 1 small red bell pepper, cut in strips
- 4 cooked chicken breast halves, cut in strips
- 1/4 cup grated parmesan cheese

For dressing, combine apple juice concentrate, vinegar, mustard, lemon peel, cumin and cayenne in small covered jar. Shake until well blended.

St. Louis may be thousands of miles from the tropics, but the exotic tastes of the islands are as near as your neighborhood supermarket.

Consumers with a craving for mangoes and papayas can enjoy these fruits even out of season without having to resort to canned fruit. Fruit in cans can have that "canned" taste and is a disappointing substitute in most cases.

"SunFresh" brand chilled glass fruits are hand cut and packed at the peak of ripeness. The fruits are found iced down or in the chilled juice case in the fresh produce department of your favorite supermarket.

Perfect for today's health-conscious consumers, "SunFresh" brand chilled fruits are low in calories, low in fats and contain no cholesterol. The nine varieties available in 26 oz. jars are Mango Slices, Sliced Papaya, Citrus Salad, Tropical Salad, Ambrosia Salad, Pink or White Grapefruit, Orange Segments, and Pineapple Chunks.

Grocery list spreads the word about multiple types of 'butter'

By Cynthia Fausser
Oh, dread. Time to make out the grocery list again. Let's see: milk, eggs, bread, butter.
Butter. I have not bought butter for anything except special occasions for years, but I still write "butter" rather than "margarine" because it has fewer letters. I suspect most people do the same, despite the bewildering array of margarine and substitute margarines they sort through weekly in a dairy case.

Not all choices perform equally under all circumstances. Anyone who doubts this should try to fry an egg in a "diet" margarine. The added water — and consequently the calorie savings in this use — quickly evaporates, thus forcing a cook to add more margarine. The label shows that by listing water first or second on the ingredient list.

Baking is risky when substituting one fat for another. Chocolate chip cookies are a perfect example. The same recipe produces soft and fluffy cookies using shortening, flat and crisp cookies using butter or margarine — and a flop using diet margarine. When someone tells me a favorite recipe failed, I ask first what kind of fat they used. Diet margarines, due to their high water content, are not suitable for most recipes. Whipped spreads also can change results, because the added air reduces the amount of fat per measure.

When a special occasion calls for cake or cookies, I recommend using stick margarine, butter or shortening for dependable results. Many older recipes can be made a little more heart-healthy without disappointing results by cutting up to one-third the fat in the recipe.

Margarines and spreads that list vegetable oil first among their ingredients are good for muffins and quick breads, baking, frying and greasing pans. Diet margarines are best suited for topping hot vegetables or toast. Butter-flavored powders sprinkle no-calorie butter flavor onto hot moist foods like potatoes and corn-on-the-cob.

Banana-Spice Snack Cake uses the sweetness of bananas and added spices for flavor with less sugar and fat than usual.

Banana spice snack cake

¾ cup whole wheat flour
¼ cup all-purpose flour
½ cup sugar
1 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. baking soda
1 tsp. cinnamon
½ tsp. nutmeg
½ tsp. cloves
1 cup mashed ripe banana
¼ cup plain low-fat yogurt
¼ cup oil
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 tsp. vanilla

Preheat oven to 350°. Lightly grease 9-inch square baking pan. Thoroughly mix flours, sugar, baking powder, baking soda, cinnamon, nutmeg, cloves and salt.

In separate bowl, mix banana, yogurt, oil, egg and vanilla. Add to flour mixture. Stir until dry ingredients are barely moistened. Pour into prepared baking pan. Bake in preheated oven 20 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean.

Kickers come up empty against Collinsville in sectional final Collinsville High soccer player Mike Darnell booted Granite City once again, this time from the playoffs, with the winning shot as the Kahoks prevailed on penalty kicks 4-2 and captured the Granite City Sectional title Saturday night at The Gauntlet.

Darnell's penalty kick off the right post got past Granite City goalkeeper Dave Kasproovich and propelled the Kahoks to Tuesday's Edwardsville Super-Sectional game against Springfield.

Collinsville, the two-time defending state champion, defeated Granite City in the postseason for the third straight year.

FOR DARNELL, the win capped off a season of success against Collinsville's longtime nemesis. The Kahoks defeated the Warriors twice in three games this year, and both victories came on winning shots by Darnell.

"This is the most exciting one yet," said Darnell, who added it was the first penalty kick he had ever converted in a game. "I've never made a penalty kick before, in summer tournaments or in high school. This is great." The senior forward, taking the final penalty kick for the Kahoks in the first best-of-five session, lined up against Kasproovich after Collinsville goalie Clay Hunter made successive stops against Brian Kohler and Corey Kessler.

Hunter's save on Kessler set the stage for Darnell, who sent a shot over Kasproovich's left shoulder and into the net for an insurmountable 4-2 advantage.

"I TOLD CLAY if he could stop (Kessler), I'd win the game," Darnell said. "I shot to the right and it went in. I just got a good shot off."

Darnell, Brandon Stultz, Doug Hartmann and Seth Shiver all scored on penalty kicks to offset successful shots by Shawn Petroski and John Nizinski.

The two teams went to penalty kicks after playing a scoreless regulation and failing to score through two 10-minute sudden death overtime periods.

"I don't like the situation with PKs, (but) the order seemed perfect because Hartmann had to hit a good shot, and he did," Collinsville coach Ron Rowden (See WARRIORS, Page 3D)

In penalty-kicks situations, the agonizing moments of waiting for a winner to be determined are the hardest part.

But in Saturday's Granite City Sectional final between the Kahoks and the host Warriors, the wait wasn't long. The penalty kicks lasted just one round, with Collinsville (18-3-3) outshooting Granite City 4-2 to clinch the victory.

PENALTY KICKS prove very little. Evenly matched Granite City and Collinsville were merely resolving a matter that couldn't be settled in 90 minutes of regulation and 20 minutes of overtime. The Kahoks advanced to Tuesday's scheduled Edwardsville Super-Sectional, the Warriors didn't.

Even Kahoks coach Ron Rowden acknowledged that winning the match on penalty kicks was somewhat of a letdown.

"That's what I told (Warriors) Coach (Gene) Baker," said Rowden. "It's a crummy way to end the season, especially when both teams played real well. It's a lot different because of the PK deal. If we'd have ended it on a goal, it would have been a little bit nicer."

Mike Theis, who missed the Kahoks' first PK attempt, was relieved his teammates — including goalkeeper Clay Hunter, who made a key save — pulled out the victory.

"IN PRACTICE, I'm always there and it's like no big deal. I go up and hit the (right) corner every time." Theis said.

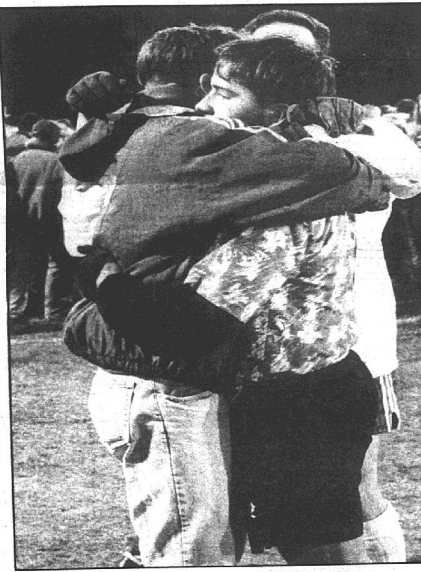

"I know what corner I was going to automatically. But with the (west to east) wind, I didn't want to hit it too far out. But yet I didn't hit it far out enough. The goalie (Dave Kasproovich) came up with it."

After Theis' miss, Granite City (17-4-2) went ahead on a kick by Shawn Petroski. Brandon Stultz followed with a goal, but the Warriors kept the lead when John Nizinski converted.

Doug Hartmann then scored to keep the Kahoks' hopes alive. Their hopes increased when Brian Kohler's shot hit the left post and bounced off. Seth Shiver then put Collinsville up 3-2.

THAT'S WHEN Hunter took over. The Kahoks' goalkeeper knocked away a shot by Corey Kessler, and Mike Darnell followed with a PK that gave Collinsville an

Area cross country squads shut out at SIUE sectional

By Mike Kelly
Correspondent

For the first time in nearly 10 years, the Metro East will not be sending a boys cross country team to the state meet.

Decatur MacArthur (98 team points), Chatham Glenwood (100), Salem (129), Quincy (136) and Springfield (139) dominated Saturday's Class AA Edwardsville Sectional at SIUE. East St. Louis Lincoln, considered one of the area favorites to reach state, finished a distant eighth in the 20-team field.

THE TIGERS, WITH 189 points, finished 50 points behind the frontrunners. Roland Hammons of Decatur MacArthur captured individual honors in 16:00.

"I can't remember the last time we didn't get an area team to state," Lincoln coach Leonard Manley said. "It was just a bad day. Our top two runners (Demond Gatlin and Quintel Jones) picked the wrong day to have an off-day. It hurts knowing we won't be going to state."

Gatlin was 19th (16:38) and Jones was 24th (16:42). Margenes Mitchell was 47th (17:04) and Dorian Martin (48th in 17:06) and Seande Vinson (51st in 17:09) were never a strong performer, Manley said. "He came to run today. But my first two runners and my middle two runners just didn't show up."

Our people were ready to run physically, but they didn't answer the bell mentally."

Marc Chidress was O'Fallon's top finisher (32nd in 16:32). Colin Shepherd was 40th (17:00). "I really have to reach back trying to remember when the last time we didn't advance in an area team state," O'Fallon coach Richard "Foz" Ryan said. "But these (central) Illinois coaches loaded with depth and tradition. That's what got them through today."

Tickets now available for 13th Shootout at Arena

By David Wilhelm
Staff writer

This weekend's blast of arctic air served as a reminder that basketball season is just more than a month away.

So perhaps it's fitting that tickets for the 13th annual Coca-Cola/KMOX Shootout went on sale Monday. The seven-game extravaganza, which includes six boys games, will be held Dec. 9 at The Arena in St. Louis.

THE COLLINSVILLE Kahoks will play Jefferson City (Mo.) in the sixth game of the day, 6:30 p.m. The rest of the Shootout schedule is as follows:

- Bethalto Civic Memorial vs. St. Louis University High, 12:30 p.m.
- Cairo vs. St. Charles (Mo.), West, 2 p.m.
- Santa Ana (Calif.) Mater Dei vs. Chicago Mount Carmel, 3:30 p.m.
- Shelbyville (Tenn.) vs. St. Joseph's Academy, 5 p.m. (girls).
- St. Louis Cardinal Ritter vs. Abilene (Texas) Cooper, 8 p.m.
- Troy (Mo.) vs. St. Francis

Borgia (Washington, Mo.), 9:30 p.m.

ALL SEVEN GAMES of the Shootout will be part of a single session. Reserved tickets are priced at $12 and $10, and cover the entire day's activities. Tickets are available at all competing schools, Tickets Now locations, Famous-Barr stores and the St. Louis Arena box office. Tickets also can be charged by telephone by calling Dialtix at (314) 291-7600.

The Arena's basketball floor will be positioned at one end of the facility and a giant curtain will be placed at the other end. "This setup has worked quite well in the last two seasons," said Shootout director Keith Pickett. "Under this alignment, The Arena's seating capacity is approximately 12,000 fans."

Local bodybuilders measure up in AAU event

By R.J. Gerber

Granite City's Paul Bilbrey recently came up with a second-place finish in both the novice and open divisions of the 1993 AAU Mr. Missouri contest, recently held in St. Louis.

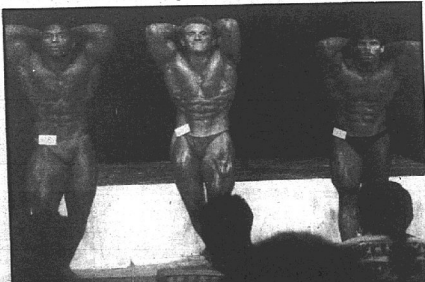

Bilbrey, who won the Midwest novice division earlier this year and has been competing since 1982, said he was a little disappointed in his runner-up finish.

"I THOUGHT I did good, but my posing needs work and so does my routine," said Bilbrey, who trains at Hard Body Gym in Pontoon Beach. "I'll probably enter in the Missouri contest again next year. I really worked on my diet. That plays a big part in it. But you've definitely got to enjoy it a little bit."

Bilbrey first competed in the Mr. St. Louis contest in 1982 and took fifth place in the Mr. Granite City event in 1982 after a 10-year layoff.

The big winner at the Oct. 16 event was Caseyville's Ralph Wright. Wright will compete with about 300 others next October in the Mr. USA contest.

Wright, who turns 35 today, began competing in 1978. "This experience, along with a strict

Lincoln, O'Fallon girls move on to state meet

By Mike Kelly
Correspondent

East St. Louis Lincoln and O'Fallon both earned state berths on Saturday at the Class AA Edwardsville Sectional at SIUE.

The Tigerettes finished third with 183 points, while the Panthers were fourth with 173. Decatur MacArthur won the sectional championship with 88 points. Highland was second (126) and Springfield was fifth (183).

"I'M ECSTATIC," O'Fallon cross country coach Richard "Foz" Ryan said. "I thought we would finish anywhere between fifth and seventh. But I'll take fourth place any day."

It's O'Fallon's third state appearance and its first since 1989. "This is so exciting," sophomore Lindsay Speer said. "We had some doubts coming in here, and the weather (55 degrees at post time) didn't help matters. But we ran a solid race and earned our way to Florida."

Latifah Matelli was Lincoln's top finisher (fourth in 12:12). But Angela Smith was 14th (12:42), Leah Nolden was 16th (12:46) and Jumah Fennoy was 33rd (13:40).
"That's the first time that's happened all season," said Tigrettes coach Nino Fennoy, describing the huge gap between his runners. "But we survived and earned another day."
Elizabeth Kampfe of Decatur MacArthur captured individual honors by besting the field in a glistering 11:57. Kapreia Kirk of Danville was second (12:06) and Speer was third (12:07).
"I'm making it a point to catch (Kampfe) at state," said Speer, who finished third at the Springfield Sectional last season. Collinsville finished in 11th place (254 points), but the Lady Kahoks produced three state qualifiers for the first time in school history. Crystal Tarr was 10th (12:35), Katie Meyer was 12th (12:38) and Sabah Winans was 13th (12:38).
Belleviewe West was 17th (284) and Triad was 19th (449). Andria Maggato of the Knights was 20th (12:53).
Tina Keck of the Maroons finished 46th (13:23) and Katie Thompson of the Lancers was 66th (13:46). Nicole Done of Granite City was 41st (13:20) and teammate Jennifer Splaingard was 102nd (14:07).

Sectional - PKs

The day wasn't a total loss, however. Senior John Scherrer of Bellevue West finished 15th (16:38) and earned a trip to state. Team-wise, the Maroons were 14th (339 points).
EDWARDSVILLE was 13th (323), East St. Louis was 17th (449), Triad was 18th (503) and Bellevue East was 19th (504).
Individually, Joe Hofeditz of Edwardsville, one of the area's best Class AA runners, finished 56th (17:12). Neal Kitchen of East finished 38th (16:59), Matt Mix of Triad was 27th (16:47) and James Seay of East St. Louis was 67th (17:22).
Sean Lewis of Granite City finished in a 94th-place tie (17:40). Jeff Krause of Collinsville was 135th (18:10).

His competitive career in 1978 at the Teen-age Mr. St. Louis, then moved on to the Mr. St. Louis in 1985 before taking part in Mr. Heart of America (1986), Junior America (1988-89) and Mr. Ozarks (1991).
Two other competitors from Hard Body also were on hand for the St. Louis event. John Brechner of Granite City took third place in the heavyweight division and Larry King also participated.

insurmountable 4-2 lead.
"He's been on fire against Granite all year, and it's just fitting that he ends their season," Rowden said of Darnell.
"We worked the last two weeks on PKs. We haven't had good luck in PKs all year. Thank God, Kohler hit the post and gave us a little break. Then all of a sudden, we came through with the victory."
Hunter said: "I've been saying for a week and a half now that I knew this was going to come down to PKs. I just had a feeling it was going to come down to this."

Local HEA unit holds meeting

The Granite City Unit of the Homemakers Extension Association met at the Anchorage Recreation Center for its October meeting.

The invocation was given by Vera Lynn and the pledge to the flag by President Mary Evelyn Yench. The hostesses for the pot luck luncheon were Ciella Schreiber, Florence Stokes and Nina Dittman.

The HEA's aim was led by Lani Lesage, First Vice President. Barbara Rogers thanked the hostesses and introduced the speaker for the day. She was Maria Staman, a registered nurse from St. Elizabeth Medical Center, who gave a very interesting speech on "If you're over 65 and feeling depressed."

Helen Hershany won the attendance prize. Roll call was taken and there were 23 members in attendance.

International Chairman Sophia Thomas announced that International Day, featuring Norway, was to be held on Monday evening, Oct. 25, at the Farm Bureau Building in Edwardsville.

Publicity Chairman Vincine Zerlan read a state survey and the ladies filled the survey out.

Betty Goldasich talked about the crafts to be made. There will be a craft day at the center Nov. 4. Ladies are to provide stuffed animals or dolls by Jan. 15.

Christmas party chairman, Sophia Thomas and Ann Miller, spoke about plans for the Christmas party. It will be held at Brenda's at noon Dec. 7.

President Yench talked about the officers' training meeting. She also announced that the November district meeting will be hosted by Trio Unit and will be held at Hope Lutheran Church on Nov. 9.

Hostesses for the January meeting will be Mary Radick, Ann Konopka and Grace Padock. The lesson will be given by Betty Goldasich and Barbara Rogers.

The HEA creed was read and the meeting adjourned.

Celebrates birthday with family, friends

Friends and relatives helped Thelma Jacobsmeyer celebrate a very special birthday Sept. 18. Held in Jerry's buffet room, the party was given by her family, Bill, Sue, Matt and Jenna Grable.

Her aunt, Alice Kosten from Collinsville; her cousins, Dorothy and Jim Ryan from Ballwin, Mo., and Royce and Shirley Niewald of St. Louis, were also there. Other family members who attended were Abby Ryan of Ballwin, Penny Miles of Cape Girardeau, Mo., and Norma Rock of Granite City.

Joe and Frances Schilling, Erv and Iva Ringering, Bud and Ruth Schilling and Harriet Bauer came from East Alton.

Friends from Granite City who attended were Lee Paul, Jerry and June Lux, Ralph and Ann Bade, Keith and Clara Parker, Durrell and Sue Barnett, Jackie Willaredt, Bill Evans, Norma Rivoir, Kathy Senak, Dorothy Johannmeier and Nell Jennings.

Tharp heads NCSU computer dept.

Alan L. Tharp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tharp of Granite City, professor and interim head of the North Carolina State University Department of Computer Science, has been named head of that department.

The appointment, effective immediately, was announced by Chancellor Larry K. Monteith, following approval by the NCSU Board of Trustees.

Tharp succeeds Robert E. Funderlic who returned to teaching and research last year.

Since 1969, Tharp has served NCSU as an assistant professor, associate professor and professor in the NCSU computer science department. He specializes in the areas of file processing, data base management, data structures and human-computer interfaces.

Tharp is the author of more than 30 articles in computer science journals, as well as more than 25 national and international conference papers. Additionally, he is the author of four books: "File Organization and Processing," "Applications of Spibol," and two editions of "Spibol: A Guide to its Use."

In the private sector, Tharp has served as a senior software engineer, a consultant and a senior programmer at Data General in Research Triangle Park. He also is a former information specialist with the Environmental Protection Agency in Research Triangle Park.

Prior to coming to NCSU, Tharp served as a member of the technical staff at Aerospace Corp. in El Segundo, Calif., and as a systems programmer with Texas Instruments in Dallas.

At NCSU, Tharp received the Alumni Distinguished Professor award and is a two-time recipient of the Outstanding Teacher award. He also was named a Danforth Associate from 1979 to 1985.

Tharp received his bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees from Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill. He lives in Raleigh, is married and has one son.

Veteran's Day service planned

On Sunday, Nov. 7, at 1 p.m., a special Veteran's Day service will be held at the Greater Granite City War Memorial in Granite City. The guest speaker will be Sgt. Major Marion H. Sack, U.S. Army, of ATCOM, St. Louis.

There will be special musical numbers, in addition, color guards from Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 7451 of Madison and American Legion Post 307 of Venice-Madison will render honors. The UVO will be conducting the ceremony.

All the veteran organizations in the Quad-City area are working strongly together to bring this service to the War Memorial. The citizens of all the cities and townships are encouraged to attend.

Remember, if you love your freedom, thank a vet!

Serves on orientation staff

Deana Whaley, a sophomore from Granite City, served on the orientation staff for new students earlier this month when Illinois College began its 168th year.

Whaley, a biology major, is the daughter of Gene and Darla Whaley of Granite City. She is a graduate of Granite City Senior High School.

Members of the orientation staff help new freshmen and transfer students become acquainted with their new surroundings. Their duties include helping newcomers move into residence halls, providing tours of the campus, and offering advice on how to become involved with academic and social activities at the college.

Illinois College was founded in 1829 and enjoys a historic affiliation with the Presbyterian Church (USA) and the United Church of Christ. A record 934 students are attending classes at the Phi Beta Kappa College this year.

Horoscope

Wednesday, Nov. 3, 1993
Today's a super money day! Consultations with bankers yield sound advice that you can understand. Innovative, futuristic ideas are easily sold, but make sure yours into financial backing. Progress can be made in real estate and property matters. Be patient and kind with a difficult relative, and tomorrow he or she will give you a gift!

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Put in a good word for a relative who needs a job. Entertain at home, and you're sure to be a hit. Your spouse is eager to talk over plans and discuss your social agenda. Be agreeable about doing your part.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Information comes that contributes to understandings in job and family matters. Snatch up chances to learn time-saving new methods. Details count, so take time to go over figures twice.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21): Impress the family with your ability to organize and follow through. Wonderful romantic vibes surround you—draw love closer, and have a lot of fun doing it. Take the time to enjoy a little recreation tonight.

CANCER (June 22-July 22): Think creatively in practical matters—solving problems will lead you to a reward. Yes, that new romance is more than just a passing fancy for both of you. Fuss over loved ones—they love it.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Time alone should be treasured, so take care of private business. Meditate on your true values now because you'll be faced with difficult choices in the near future. Leave behind old grudges and pain—it's a day for healing.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Nov. 3): Family love and other binding ties, such as inside connections, will protect you. In November, set goals, get your personal affairs in order and make necessary changes. Make big investments in December. A new job that requires much learning comes in January. Next February, improved conditions at home add greatly to your happiness. Expect creative success in March.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Give a boost to a friend's confidence by asking for his or her advice. Work and money matters flow smoothly. Finding bargains or doing it yourself helps with savings. Fill in for a co-worker and win a loyal pal.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23): Be original—use original thinking in problem solving. Artistic efforts or doing it yourself helps with savings. Fill in for a co-worker and win a loyal pal.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21): The chance to take over a position of responsibility should be considered before committing. Behind-the-scenes activity is most effective, especially in family matters. Use tact and discretion.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): An important new pal will help you to the top. Invitations are extended to join social activities, a club or a class. Let a friend know how much you care. Introductions made today are profitable.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): A job interview, a new assignment or a special conference with your boss or family authority may take place, bringing change and clear-cut tasks that satisfy your need to be useful. Sag has good advice.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Travel plans are made. Delightful surprises are connected to career efforts. Expect not just a big break but a break that helps you learn what you most want to know. An Aries needs your help with his or her love life.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): A love affair that has been a secret about to become big news. Emotional extremes are to be avoided, but following an inner hunch is very lucky. Be available if a bed-ridden relative needs errands run.

Evening Circle holds meeting

The Evening Circle of the First Presbyterian Church met Oct. 12 in the home of Betty Schmiedake, chairman, who opened the meeting with a prayer.

The minutes were read by Gladys Pape and reports were given. Final plans were discussed for the church bazaar and luncheon to be held at the church on Nov. 6.

An announcement was made about the Church Women United and the American Red Cross blood drive to be held at Central Christian Church from 2 to 7 p.m. Nov. 16. It was noted that the need for blood is urgent. Money for the fellowship of the least coin were collected and Gladys Pape read a letter from the Rev. John and Martha Butt on their missionaries in Thailand. The church sponsored the missionaries, in which they told about their work in that rapidly developing country with its many social and environmental problems. They wrote that the challenge of the Christian Church is to go and tell and show the good news so that more and more persons can experience new hope, new meaning, new joy and new life.

Burdine Holtzsch presented the lesson, "A Prayer of Rejoicing and Forgiveness" from Psalm 32. This prayer looks back on the experience of confession and celebrates the blessings of forgiveness. The lesson concluded with a prayer in union.

son.

Following the lesson, the meeting closed as the members formed a circle and repeated the Mizpah.

Dessert was served by the hostess to Gladys Pape, Vee Throne, Lulu Mills, Gladys Fuhrman, Barbara Landis, Burdine Holtzsch, June Jones and Shirley Yates.
